ENVISION A BRIGHTER FUTURE

--- WELCOME ---

The burgeoning economy in this new century has increased trade activities tremendously among countries, and the development of technology has considerably simplified the complexity of international trade. Although the progress of society has brought us in-numerous conveniences in our daily life, because international trade is not only a simple transaction between buying and selling companies, it is more often related to the national conditions of the country where the company is located; the working methods of local personnel; and many other cumbersome operation details. Under all these factors, mistakes often occur in the transaction, which causes delays in business operation, and even failure to succeed in the transactions, thus causing losses to the participated companies.

Bridge Point Inc, was incorporated in 2015. Why did we name the company "Bridge Point?" Because we know our role. We are a bridge connecting customers and resources. We shoulder the trust of our customers and the entrustment of our suppliers place on us.

In the early years of company establishment, Bridge Point, Inc spent a lot of time and energy to authenticate reliable sources for customers, as well as seek stable customers for suppliers. We have offices in the US, Peru, China, and Singapore to both work and serve the local business partners when they need us.

Although the real business transactions actually started in 2018, we have meticulously planned the business network and well-maintained the relationship with resource parties and customers, which had helped the business to develop steadily. We have successfully completed every transaction we handled and obtained high evaluations from our customers and suppliers.

Since the company was founded, we have gone through years of experience in international trade. The company has been succeeded over the challenges and achieved the goals we set. Although we are still learning and understanding the business in various scenarios, we have gained confidence, and together, we will overcome difficulties, continue to work hard and be ready for any upcoming challenges. We will cooperate with all companies to provide our customers with efficient, high-quality services.

To reiterate, we shoulder the trust of our customers and the entrustment of our suppliers. We will take "Becoming a Better Bridge Between Customers and Suppliers" as our company's mission, and fulfill our responsibilities and obligations.

Thanks
